

Media ownership is already too consolidated in this country. It is vital to protect smaller, independent voices. The rules on broadcast ownership must not be relaxed.